

Blue Star Jets

by Elena Banfi | beTravel | June 9th, 2015

During the 2015 gathering of EBACE, the European Business Aviation Convention & Exhibition, the temple of business aviation that recently finished in Geneva, Blue Star Jets announced a launch set to transform business aviation.

The biggest and most prestigious broker of private jets for hire based in New York has designed the first global app for jets on demand, which will give business travellers, families and individuals who normally use private jets, the luxury and convenience of travelling (but without having their own jet) with just 4 hours' notice, offering immediate bookings to and from all the airports on the face of the earth and customer service open 24/7.

Available for iOS and Android, here comes a new tool for customised trips. Users can book by choosing from a fleet that also includes helicopters, turboprops, corporate jets, air ambulances, cargo and jumbo jets. In real time it offers access to costs, availability and comparisons between aircrafts...
